FASTED FORTY DAYS

To fast for forty days, the only nourishment being a little water occasionally, and to come through all right only to collapse a few days after the fast was over has been the experience of Mr. Alf. Studer, the well known storekeeper in town. Mr. Studer has been unwell for a long time and after trying everything possible and getting no benefit he decided on trying out the drastic remedy of fasting, and finding that it was helping him he decided to continue and as stated above carried on for forty days without any nourishment. He broke his fast a few days ago but on Saturday last he suddenly collapsed, and on Monday morning had to be taken to Calgary to a private hospital. There is every prospect that he will recover as his heart and other organs are in good shape now.

According to the Calgary doctor, the collapse being caused by a nervous breakdown.

Mr. Studer's numerous friends both in town and district sympathise with him and his family in his long continued fight for good health and will hope that he will soon get over his present indisposition. In his younger days he was somewhat of an athlete, especially in football, and no doubt that has helped him in his present hard fight by giving him a strong constitution.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Dr. Duncan, dentist, wishes to announce that after March 31st, 1922, he will give up his Didsbury dental office and open his new dental office at 201 new P. Burns bldg., Cor. 8th Ave. 2nd St. E. Calgary, where he will be equipped to give all the very best in dental service.

The Evolution Of An Empire

The structure of the British Empire and the conception of empire entertained by the British people, both at home and abroad, has long been a puzzle to other nations and peoples. With the exception of the British themselves, people have been unable, as a rule, to harmonize the idea of several nations, each exercising autonomous government and to all intents and purposes quite independent, uniting in a single and unified Empire.

Nowhere in the world was there such an extensive conception of the unity and strength of the British Empire as existed in Germany prior to 1914. Intelligent and presumably well informed German writers confidently predicted that the first serious war in which Great Britain was involved would be a signal for Canada, Australia and South Africa to throw off what they termed "the British yoke." Equally confident were the predictions that India would blaze into revolt, that Ireland would rebel almost to a man, and that Egypt would quickly drive the British there into the sea. The loosely constituted British Empire would, they declared, quickly fall to pieces.

But the Great War had not really begun before it became manifest to the world that the British Empire was one and不可分割的, many times stronger and more united than any of the empires of old held together by force and arms. Instead of repudiating their allegiance to the British crown, Canada and Australia poured out their wealth and their manifold valour and enthusiasm in support of their common Empire. The few disloyalists who still remained in Canada, Australia and South Africa were easily and quickly crushed and the India proved incapable of demands of soldiers and small vessels and brought about the downfall of Turkey in Mesopotamia and Palestine. The Irish as usual, contributed many of the most valiant soldiers in the British armies.

Today the world looks upon the British Empire with pride and admiration. By the free act of the British Government and Parliament, Ireland is constituted a Free State within the Empire; the protectorate over Egypt is brought to an end and the nucleus land of the Pharaohs granted to the people of Egypt. The right and lawes of self government are being freely given to India and as rapidly as the people are capable of embracing those rights and powers.

Some unthinking people who fail to understand the genius of British administration prefer to call this a general weakening of the Empire. This is a sadly mistaken view. The Empire is not weakened, the strength of the Empire, not of any inherent weakness, and as time passes, each of these units in the great British Commonwealth of nations will give added strength and power to that which is fast becoming the most powerful international organization in the history of the world.

Many nations have yet to learn that the extension of the liberties of the subject make for increased loyalty and, therefore, unusual strength, while political repression and coercion will add fuel to the flames of discontent, and a period of strife.

The British way is the human way, the common sense way, the Christian way. One unit in this great British family of nations may find it necessary to work out its own development and advancing its own welfare, to adapt itself to existing conditions, but the Empire as a whole, and at once interests all, interprets this as a weakening in the links that bind the Empire together. But not so. If the adoption of such a policy is found essential to the upholding of a particular part of the Empire, and adds to the strength of our Empire, then let us do it. But if the Empire finds it necessary to take such action as it deems to any part, not only would that part be strengthened in its development but irritation would arise which would prove a weak ness and menace to the whole.

It is the desire of the British people to open up the new and unpeopled portions of the earth, and into some of the older but less enlightened countries, and establish order and good government, provide modern means of communication and education, and then when the people have grown up let them determine their own destiny with the shadow of their own wings. And so our nation in the carrying out of the great British policy has not been unmoved. Each such step is an evidence, not of British decay, but of British greatness and strength.

Manitoba will have a fleet of five airplanes next summer, two or three of which will be able to carry at least 16 passengers, to patrol the forest areas and perform various other duties for the Dominion Government officers in the province. Several machines are being erected and overhauled, while two large F3 seaplanes are expected early in the spring from British Columbia. Zam-Buk

M. R. H. Butler, Chemist, Our writer says: "My skin broke out in little rashes which spread quickly and were very uncomfortable. I soon discovered a cream which was designed to get rid of them. Within a week Zam-Buk gave me complete relief. I now use it every day. It is a wonderful cream. It is a good product and I am sure that others could scarcely credit how bad it had been."

THE SELLING END OF THE FARMERS BUSINESS

Editor Pioneer:

The commercial system in vogue today does not fit the World, any more than a boy's suit of clothes fits a grown man. The system has served the world since creation, but has fallen down on the job so must be scrapped. Most branches of the distributing system are so minutely organized that they can buy for so little and sell for so much that both producer and consumer are skinned alive, and furthermore the question of prices is at all times at their will and pleasure. Thus the world's greatest producers and the world's greatest consumers are under the heel of the Distributing System. It is indeed to laugh.

Cooperation is a burlesque of the real thing in Canada, sickening the farmers of the very name for as yet it has given him no assistance in economic difficulties. True cooperation is the economic salvation of some countries. Denmark is an example, and it is also the panacea of the world's troubles today.

Cooperation on the patronage basis. In this plan the profits go back to the producer in proportion to the amount of the product he disposes of, through the Association, the capital necessary to run the business bears a fixed rate of interest and does not absorb all the profits as in ordinary Trust Stock Companies. That the main part of the profit on handling a product should go to the producer of that product seems a better idea than that all of the profit should go as dividends on the capital invested in the distributing company, be it Farmers Company or Merchant Princes.

It is the greatest joke of modern times that the majority of the people in the world, viz., the Producers and Consumers should both be robbed by the Distributors who are numerically so few. The one being robbed of the main part of the product of his years work; the other by paying such a whale of a price for that same product.

I leave it to you to decide which of the two is the Prize Boob, the producer or the Consumer, both of which could materially improve their case by cooperation on the patronage basis. Have a separate association for each of your products then you will come near getting the world's price

ROD AND GUN

If you have gone over your fishing tackle and have everything in readiness for the opening day, turn to the March issue of Rod and Gun In Canada and keep fuel on the fire kindled by the Red Gods by reading "Nagogami Beauties" by L. F. Sternman; "A Speckled Trout Puzzle," by Bonnycastle Dale and "Fishing the Cowgihan River From a Canoe," by John P. Babcock. If you are not a fisherman, read any one of the hunting and trapping stories and articles contained in the March issue of Canada's national sportsman's monthly. The rifleman interested in the Lee-Enfield will find some very helpful information, while the "scatter gun" enthusiast will read with interest the trap department. This number of Rod and Gun in Canada has several especially good nature photographs which will undoubtedly prove of interest to all worshippers at Nature's shrine. Rod and Gun in Canada is published monthly by W. J. Taylor, Ltd., Woodstock, Ontario.

It has been announced that there will be a fall session of the legislature, probably in November, for the purpose of passing upon a provincial income tax. The members will not be paid extra indemnity for his special session, it is announced.

ST. PATRICK'S PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mardon of Burnside entertained a large number of friends at their home Friday evening, March 17th, in honor of St. Patrick. The evening was spent in general music and dancing which constituted a wide scope from Irish jigs to the modern fox-trot. Honors for the evening were equally divided between St. Patrick and Mr. Leiper, a Scotchman whose birthday occurs on the Irish holiday.

A delicious supper was served at midnight and dancing continued till the wee small hours of the morning.

After giving Mr. and Mrs. Mardon three cheers for being such capital entertainers everybody went home hoping to be invited again for another good time.

CHANGES IN WOMEN'S INSTITUTE ACT

The amendments to the Women's Institutes were discussed in committee of the whole. The act seeks to eliminate the minister of agriculture as a controlling or directing factor in the institutes and substitutes an advisory board to be elected at the annual convention of the institutes. In the past the institutes have had the sole right to extension work in the way of special courses in home economics and so forth. The amendments will extend this right to all organizations. The act also gives power for the appointment of the necessary officers for the carrying out of duties under the act. Grants to the institutes will remain as in the past, the only change with respect to finances being that the expenses of the annual convention will not be met by the government. The amendments aim to provide for a greater freedom and independence of the Women's Institutes, and the enlargement of the extension work which has been carried on in the past by making this available to all women's organizations.

Full arrangements have now been made for the three day short course in Agriculture at Red Deer, which will be held March 28th, 29th and 30th. The subjects to be covered are soil cultivation, selection of seed, fodder crops, silos, feeding of dairy cattle, dairy cattle, beef cattle, mutton sheep, draft horses. The lecturers will include F. Murdock's Straight Reply

Tells Laborites He Favors Government Retention of C. N. R.

James Murdock, federal minister of labor, has replied to charges made against him in the trades and labor council, says a Hamilton dispatch. Mr. Murdock asks the council not to place much reliance on the reports of a Toronto paper concerning him and announced that he is in favor of the public ownership and operation of the 25,000 miles of Canadian-owned railroads and believes that they will pay under public ownership. As to his reported opposition to unemployment insurance, he says he favors doing everything possible to furnish employment rather than insurance against unemployment.

GENERAL DEBILITY FOLLOWS INFLUENZA

The After Effects Often More Serious Than the Disease Itself.

No reasonable precaution to avert an attack of influenza should be spared. The disease itself often proves fatal and after recovery many who are spared, make the life of the victim one of almost constant misery. Ask anyone of any those who have suffered much by this trouble, if they then contract another attack of health and most of them will answer: "Since I had the influenza I have never been really well." This trouble leaves behind it, lameness, shortness of breath, dull circumspectation of the heart and a tiresome feeling after even slight exertion. To add to the trouble, the patient in which the patient is left after the fever and influenza have subsided. This condition will continue until the blood is built up again, the body building up the heart and strengthening the nerves nothing can equal a full treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The value of these pills in the cure of influenza is shown by the statement of Mr. Edward J. McGuire, Penhook, Ont., who says—"In the fall of 1918 I was attacked with influenza and was unable to walk for three days. I was confined to my room for three weeks, and although the influenza subsided I did not regain my health. Again a few months later I was again stricken. I was subject to fainting spells and my feet and ankles were badly swollen. The doctor told me that my condition was serious and in the case of anemia, and although I was under his care for over two months I was not improving in any way. At this stage one of my friends advised me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was both so ill so as to begin to think myself hopeless. However, I was finally able to get up and walk again. The first time I had used two boxes there was no doubt they were helping me. I continued taking the pills until I had used a dozen boxes and my condition was again improved. The symptom of the trouble had left me and I was again in full health. I returned to my work and have ever since been in good health and never again I can entirely to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I think that anyone who is suffering from the after effects of influenza, or any other disease, should give this medicine a fair trial."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail from the manufacturer, boxes $2.25 from Dr. Wm. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

As a result of recent earthquakes in Chile, large mountains in the Andes range carry an average of 160 feet, a sufficient distance to dislodge peaks beyond what had been hidden from sight.

Nearly all children are subject to worms and many are born with them. When suffering from Dr. Minard Graves' Worm Exterminator an excellent remedy.

Looking from one lofty mountain range across the animal kingdom distances may be spanned. The report is said to be between Mount Shasta, Mexico, and the Sierra Madre. The two ranges being about 200 miles apart.

When a mother detects from the writhings and fretting of a child that worms are troubling it, she can prevent many a sleepless night by giving Worm Powder, which will expel all worms from the system. They may cause vomiting, but this need cause no anxiety, because it is a natural and safe method of helping worms. No worms can long exist where these Powders are used.

Farmers to Gain $20,000,000

Advance in Price of Wheat Has Good Effect on Business

Western Canadian farmers, on the basis of recent advances in wheat prices, stand to realize about $20,000,000 more out of the 1921 crop than in 1920, provided the price of wheat remains at the 1921 level in December. Yet net proceeds from the 1921 crop will be down 20% to 25% on the 1920 crop, because of the high cost of production.

"THE STORE THAT NEVER DISAPPOINTS"

RUGBY

The Rugby C. U. C. sent a team to Westerdale on Friday March 10th, to play a number of games. The team came out victorious, the score being 1-3 in their favor, both teams played a very good game. We wish to thank the Westerdale Young People for the enjoyable time accorded us and hope for a return game very soon.

During his address at a dinner Wednesday evening Hon. Geo. Headley announced a can policy of the government to continue extension work by means of short courses and demonstrations, in a practical way, the intention to appoint eight or ten agricultural agents to assist farmers to meet and solve their problems and the intention to offer some assistance to those competing in the International Livestock show at Chicago. Mr. Headley took occasion to urge attention to diversified farming, and said that the man on the land who did not raise his own food in the way of butter, eggs, milk and meat was not a true farmer. Deputy Minister Craig spoke of the recent legislation doing away with cream stations and stated that these had cost the industry $240,000 a year. He estimated that while in the past it had cost 83¢ a can to ship cream to the creamery, under the new scheme it would cost about 15¢. This meant a straight saving of $150,000 and with improvement in quality through government grading at the creameries, of another $75,000 the whole scheme would mean a total saving of $300,000.

Amendments to the school grants act will enable the government to give somewhat extended grants to high schools and to assist night instruction to a greater extent. Amendments to the school ordinance provides that town and village high schools may charge fees to non-resident pupils.

Arrangements with respect to special rates on seed grain shipments are similar to those which have been in effect for the past few years. A system of certificates will be used and the farmers wishing to take advantage of the special rates on seed grain should apply to the Secretary of the local U. F. A. for these certificates, a supply of which can be obtained from the provincial secretary of the U. F. A.

AN ESSAY ON PANTS

Pants are made for men and not for women. Women are made for men and not for pants.

When a man pants for a woman and a woman pants for a man, that makes a pair of pants.

Pants are like molasses: they are thinner in hot weather and thicker in cold weather. There has been much discussion as to whether pants is singular or plural. Seems to us that when men wear pants it is plural and when they don't wear pants it is singular.

If you want to make pants last, make the coat first.—Farm & Ranch Review.

A little tulle, a yard of silk; A little skin, as white as milk. A little strap. How dare she breathe! A little cough—"Good evening, Eve."—Punch Bowl.
